Warriors vs Politicians

It is a fact worthy of the attention of the Brick Pomeroy stripe of Democrats, North and South, that most of the really able rebel generals and other fighters of lesser note are taking sides with Congress in the policy of reconstruction and against the politicians of the South, who never spilled anything but ink and whisky for the "lost cause." Some weeks ago we republished a letter from General Longstreet, in which he gives the Southern fire-eaters some sensible and truly patriotic advice. We would kindly now to refer those of our readers who delight to breathe cursings against Congress and abolitionists, to some extracts which they can find elsewhere in this paper from the Fourth of July speech of ex Governor Brown of Georgia on the same subject. His soothing rebuke of the would be dignified and still contumacious class of people who never did any fighting for the Confederacy except with a goose quill or from the stump is particularly severe. It is not an "abolition lie," but the earnest words of a Southern man, who, having lost the cause he fought for, and not choosing to leave the country whose Government has conquered him and his cause, now proposes in good faith, and not grumblingly and snarlingly, to become a citizen and supporter of the government. Besides these we have mentioned are Wade Hampton, Jeff. Thompson, Semmes and a host of others who all take the same ground. They look with contempt and pity upon the blind and vicious stubbornness of the Southern people that impedes the restoration of the Southern States. How different from those real heroes of the rebellion is the conduct of the ink slingers and speech makers, (Breckinridge and Vallandingham, for instance,) and all the whole list of cowards that ran away and skulked in Canada or Europe rather than join their fortunes to the cause they espoused! The fact is, those editors and politicians who are now making loudest complaints against Congress and the Union party, and are urging Johnson into all his blundering perfidy, never did anything but sling ink and spout treason. They never did any fighting at all. The difference between those two classes of men is easily accounted for. Those who fought for the rebellion are, as a class, more honorable than those who fought valiantly with goosequills. A good fighter is every way a better man than a more frothy politician who never incurred any greater responsibility than to draw the salary of some office or steal public funds. All the military chiefs of the South, who deserve to be called such, are endeavoring to establish friendly relations between the people and the Government, to the end that they may again become prosperous, with law and order and confidence restored. The small fry Democratic editors of the North, and particularly of this coast, like O'Meara of the World, Dow of the Umatilla Press, Cate of the Owyhee paper, Bertah Brown of the Portland Herald, and many others of the same kind, are constantly scribbling to urge the Democratic party into an attitude of greater hostility, if possible, to that course and those measures which Longstreet and Hampton and Brown and Thompson declare if adopted by the people of the South would lead to the happiest results to them and their posterity. We urge the Democrats of Idaho, who pin their faith to the shirt tail of Brick Pomeroy and his kind, to note the different course now pursued by those men who marshled and fasted and fought for the Confederacy, and those Democratic editors who are still writing leaders which would have read better at the commencement of the rebellion than now. The former accept the issues that the war has decided beyond appeal, and give in their adherence to the policy of Congress and the Republican party, while the latter dissent from everything not radically treasonable, and keep themselves constantly ill-humored by cultivating a hatred of everything that does not agree with Democracy as it was six years ago.—Boise States-Man.

GOSSIP ABOUT WRITERS.—The New York Evening Gazette has the following:

George William Curtis is a younger man than most people think, and think in spite of his good looks. He is not forty-three. This impression is partly due to a certain unmunnity of opinion among the critics concerning Curtis and his writings. No one speaks ill, or even lightly, of Curtis' work, because it is almost invariably well done. Curtis is a bold and aggressive communicator of ultra opinions, but nobody ever thought of him as belonging to that class of writers who go against the current for the purpose of centering attention upon themselves. One reason of this is that he is so palpably honest about it, another is that he is so thorough a gentleman. He can say a severe thing of you to your face without wagging his head or running out his tongue at you. He is aggressive without being pert and saucy.

Curtis was born to a respectable competency, but like many another boy who has no present need, he began to take care of himself when he was but fifteen years old, and he entered the service of a dry goods importer here. After a year of this he went to farming in Massachusetts, and it was while working on a farm near Concord that he mingled in the society where he met Emerson and Hawthorne.

Curtis is a graduate of Brown University, and he spent a few months at the University of Berlin. His rare culture was not acquired in the ordinary routine. His literary tastes were naturally refined, and he improved his mind greatly by foreign travel. He was only twenty six when he returned from his travels in Egypt and Syria, and published his "Nile Notes of a Howadji." But it was his "Potiphar Papers" which gave him his most distinctive reputation, we think. These were a collection of papers on metropolitan "fashionable" life, very caustic and humorous, and strongly suggesting Thackeray. "Potiphar" appeared originally in Putnam's Monthly, of which Curtis was the principal editor. He was also part proprietor of the Monthly, and its unhappy end resulted in stripping Curtis of "all he possessed," as the phrase is. "Lotus Eating," one of Curtis' pleasantest books, was made up of watering-place letters that he wrote to the Tribune in 1851. "Prue and I," his poorest volume, was in like manner made up from the pages of Putnam.

Curtis has been connected with the Harpers' publications for ten or a dozen years. In the Monthly, as everybody knows, he writes the "Easy Chair," the best part of the whole magazine. In the Weekly, he writes the editorials, and proves his capacity for strong political writing to be as great as that for delicate and literary gossip. His original position on the Weekly was the writer of a column or so of light talk on literary and social topics, printed in small type, and denominated "The Lounger." It was like a younger brother of the "Easy Chair." By and by his "Lounger" talked radical politics a little, and the Harpers—who before the war were the reverse of radical—requested him to "stop that," or discontinue the "Lounger." Of course Curtis stopped the "Lounger" altogether. Subsequent events, however, changed the Harpers' views somewhat, and Curtis was reinstated as a writer for the editorial page. He gradually took the whole thing in his own hands, and to-day the Weekly talks broader Radicalism in its leaders than even the "Lounger" did in the by-gone time.

Fifteen or twenty years ago Curtis was considered the Adonis of New York literateurs. He is still very fine looking, tall, well dressed, with good hair and fine eyes, an ultra gentlemanly manner and scholarly aspect. He resides on the south shore of Staten Island, in a very pleasant place of his own.

GOVERNOR BROWNLOW.—The following card of Governor Brownlow appears in the Knoxville Whig:

To whom it may concern—The vindictive rebels and their apostate Union co workers are asserting from one end of the State to the other that I am dying, or will die—telling the truth, but intending to make the false impression that I am now in the act of departing from this world. With those who are trumpeting this news abroad the wish is father to the thought. Like my political enemies, and my friends, and all other human beings, I am dying, and will certainly die sooner or later. With us all it is only a question of time. My health, although indifferent, through God's mercy, is as good as it has been at any time in the last twelve months. I eat three hearty meals each day, I sleep well at night, and, asleep I have a good conscience and the well pleasing prospect before me of obtaining the largest majority in the race for Governor that any man has obtained in the State for the last thirty years.
WM. G. BROWNLOW.

General Sickles Speech.

On the Fourth of July a large procession of colored citizens marched to the residence of General D. E. Sickles in Charleston, and he delivered to them an able address. We regret that we have not space for its reproduction entire in our columns, but here are a few points which will be appreciated fully:

When I was sent to the Carolinas, in the autumn of 1865, I was told that the freed people would never work for wages—that they could not be made to understand what it was to work for wages. Now, I hear a different complaint—that the freed people will not work without wages. [Loud cheers and laughter.]

I was told, also, that it would never do to admit colored people to the courts of justice to assert their rights by suits at law; or to give testimony in controversies between man and man; for it was said that they could not comprehend the meaning and obligations of an oath, or the forms of judicial proceedings. Now, I hear that unless a colored man has a lawyer and a law suit, he does not consider himself a respectable citizen. [Laughter.]

I was told, also, that it would be useless to establish schools for the instruction of the blacks; it was insisted they were not capable of learning—their heads were too thick and their brains too small. [Loud laughter.] Now I hear that so many free schools for colored children are filled with colored pupils, taught by colored teachers, that public opinion is aroused to the importance of providing for the education of the poor whites. Nay, more, in some places the school-houses for the colored race need the protection of my bayonets; and I am sure if colored people could not learn, society would not hate their teachers or fear their schools, and mobs would not attack and destroy their school houses. [Sensation.]

I was told, also, that it would be absurd to make citizens of the freed people, because they would never know anything about politics; that they would be led to the ballot box like sheep to pasture, without caring whether they were voting for friends or foes. Now I hear the colored people divide their spare time about equally between religion and politics, and that they are almost as particular about the politician they trust as they are about the preacher they choose to pray for them. [Applause and laughter.]

His remarks were listened to throughout with very great interest. He concluded in these words:

Do you remember Abraham Lincoln? [Cries of "Yes," "Yes," "Yes."] Will you ever forget him? [Loud shouts of "No," "No," "Never," "Never."] You must not cease to cherish and heed the teachings of that genial nature, those simple methods, the noble heart and the guileless example of your gifted and lamented champion. Let us all remember and believe the last words of his last address to the people he loved and served so well, and for whom his almost sacred life was a sacrifice. He said, "The time will come when the mystic chords of memory, stretching from every battle-field and every patriot grave to every living heart and hearthstone, touched again as they will surely be by the better angels of our nature, shall swell the chorus of the Union throughout the land." [Great applause.]

The New York Tiges of July 12th, has the following account of a grand Reconstruction meeting at Terry, Mississippi, which was addressed by A. G. Brown, Walter Brooks, and others:

The Jackson, (Miss.) Clarion publishes a full report of a reconstruction meeting which was held in Terry in that State, on the 4th inst., and declares that it was a complete success, justifying the expectations of sanguine friends in its harmonious and satisfactory results. The whites and blacks, it says, were there in their numbers, and each race, through its chosen representatives, frankly and freely pledged their joint efforts in the work of promoting peace and good will among all, and co-operation in restoring the State to its place in the Union, in conformity with the requirements of the Government. A. G. Brown was chosen to preside over the meeting. Governor Brown, on assuming the chair, said the object of the meeting was to arrive at a proper understanding, and to cultivate feelings of reciprocal kindness and good will between the whites and blacks, who were people of a common country, and whose destinies, for weal or woe, must be a common one. He argued that their interests were identical, and that a blow leveled at the prosperity of the one could not fail to reach the other. Referring to reconstruction, he said that the duty of the Southern people, as well as their best interests, were clear. The Government of the United States had acquired the power, if it did not possess the right, to dictate the terms of the readmission of the State into the Union. There is no denying that fact. He would advise the holding of a Convention and the acceptance of the terms tendered by Congress without delay or cavil. He did not approve these acts—would have framed them differently—but they had been passed by the supreme power of the Government, and to reject or postpone their adoption would be to incur severer penalties than any they had yet experienced.

At the conclusion of Gov. Brown's address, to which marked attention was paid, he introduced Walker Brooke, of Vicksburg, formerly a United States Senator from Mississippi.

Brooke said that there were among them one party which was advocating the policy of stupidity or blindly folding its arms and leaving the ship of State to float down the current into the abyss of irremediable ruin and destruction. This was the party of non-action. There was another party, who says "Let us be up and doing." It was idle to denounce the hardships of the military reconstruction laws of Congress. They are the terms on which the Government has required the restoration of the State to the Union, and they could not, with safety, reject them. Congress offers peace; should they accept or reject? He asked the non-actionists, if they did not hold a Convention, what would they do? Nothing; and thus they would force Congress to "give the screw another turn." The State will be organized, and that speedily. If not upon the present terms, upon others that will be prescribed if these are rejected.

SENATOR WILSON'S LETTER.—The following is the letter of Senator Wilson, of Massachusetts to a prominent Virginian, to which allusion has been made by telegraph:

SENATE CHMBER,
WASHINGTON, D. C., July 15, 1867.
Wm. T. Early, Esq., Charlottesville, Va:

DEAR SIR: You ask me in your note "What action is necessary on the part of the people here to avert from them confiscation?" I am sure the generous action of General Grant and our other commanders toward the men in arms against

The Daily Oregonian.

MONDAY MORNING, AUGUST 19, 1867.

The Old Game Renewed.

A correspondent writes us from Union county that he has it from unquestionable authority that "one Ben Hayden of Polk County has written to a certain Democrat of Union requesting him to send to Polk as many Democratic votes as he could safely spare from this (Union) county, in order to carry Polk at the next election." This is only an item in the general mass of evidence we have received, going to show that a concerted effort is being made throughout the State by the Copperhead leaders to import votes enough into the closely contest counties to carry them for their party. Though it is almost a year until the next election, the work of "importation" has already commenced. They hope by beginning thus early and continuing the work with quiet energy to mass voters enough in the doubtful counties to secure a majority of the Legislature next year. These are several counties which are very close, but which the Republicans can carry by small majorities on an honest vote. Some of them will elect State Senators next June to hold for the term of four years. These Senators will each have a vote for U. S. Senator in 1870. Hence the greater anxiety of the Copperheads to carry those counties in the next election. They believe that this will be a great point gained in their favor, and that it will materially contribute to their obtaining full control of the State. Their purpose is to draw votes enough from other localities to make their success certain in the closely contested counties, and with this view the "colonization" of Polk and Yamhill has already commenced. This is the meaning of the frequent meetings which the Copperheads are holding in those counties. They cannot hope to carry Marion, and accordingly are at liberty to draw on their voters there for help in those localities where their help will be needed. Linn Lane, Umatilla, Union, and a few other counties, they deem tolerably secure, and therefore think it safe to withdraw a portion of their voters from each to serve elsewhere. In all parts of the State considerable numbers of idle men may be found, who can change without inconvenience from one place to another; and this class is composed almost wholly of Democrats. Under the organized system which the leaders of that party have adopted, very effective service may be rendered in the way of adding to their party strength in the doubtful districts. There are Democrats in every county who make it their principal business to look after these matters, and who are always vigilant both in searching for men to fill any situation that is open and in securing positions for such as desire them. The only reward which these workers demand is the assurance that those to whom their assistance is given will vote the Democratic ticket. These tactics will have but little effect upon the aggregate vote of the State, but they make the Democratic party immensely strong in certain counties than it would otherwise be. Republicans everywhere ought to be fully aroused to the act that this traffic is going on, and should take such measures to check and counteract it as may be within the compass of their power. Being aware of it, they are to be made to assist in the organized scheme of the Copperheads to obtain political power.

An Irresponsible Body.

The city Council at its last session enacted an ordinance which has fallen under the reputed ire of the majority of that body. The ordinance gives the Mayor or a Committee the right to take possession of all city property on demand, and a refusal on the part of any officer to deliver up such property subjects him to fine and imprisonment. Now the city Treasurer has a considerable amount of city property in his hands, and he has given a bond in the sum of $40,000 for the proper performance of his duty in respect to the same. Under this ordinance, however, the Mayor or any committee of the Council have a right to demand possession of all moneys in the Treasurer's hands, and to fine him for refusing to deliver it over to them though he is fully responsible and gives security for its keeping. Of course the Council has far travelled its power in passing this act, and the so called ordinance is not worth the paper on which it is written, to say nothing of the sum which the city has to pay for its publication in the "organ." It is not necessary to say that no officer will pay the slightest attention to it which interferes with the duties of his office. But such an arrangement it would be in the power of one man to entirely suspend the functions of city government. The duties of the officers of the city are expressly defined in the Charter, and to that law they are amenable. The idea of empowering the Mayor to take everything in his own hands whenever he chooses, is fully worthy of the sagacity of the present majority of the Council. We stated the other day that if Quixotism could elect each other to the various offices, they would soon become an irresponsible and corrupt body and bankrupt the city. But we did not suppose they would so soon make an attempt to do so.

Between Us be Truth."

The following paragraph appeared in the Herald of Saturday:

> The Oregonian glories in the subservience to the city authorities by the lawless rabble of Hoyt. Do the fathers of the Oregonian recollect an instance in which that paper did not approve mob violence and lawless outrages perpetrated by Radicals?

Now the people of this city who may be supposed to have read both papers will probably be able to decide which one of them has advocated lawful proceedings in this case, and which one has talked of "violence" and "bloodshed" in connection with it. The Oregonian has steadily insisted that it could be decided only by law, and that it was folly to think of any other mode of proceeding, while the Herald and its party have not manifested the least disposition to be governed by law in the case, and instead of referring the contest quietly to the Court as the only legitimate and competent tribunal, have absurdly endeavored to decide it by threats and bluster, and have even gone to the length of summoning a mob to seize by violence the office in dispute. It poorly becomes those who for almost a week have been endeavoring to incite lawless proceedings and mob violence to oust an officer, to accuse those who have steadily insisted on settling the contest according to law, of encouraging "lawless resistance" and inciting "lawless outrages." Yet this misrepresentation is about as fair a thing as can be expected from these heated partisans.

An individual who has been known to try to vote himself into office boasted the other day that he "would show the people yet that he was a trump." What particular "trump" he did not specify; but there can be no doubt that he meant the "Knave." Considering that a pretty strong game of "euchre" has been going on for some time, with the city offices for stakes, there is no reason to question either the former assertion or the last supposition.

The Desire to Agree.—Cornelius O'Dowd says in Blackwood:

I declare I have an ardent desire always to agree with the people around me. I am never so well pleased as when I can concur with a prevailing opinion, and I'm not sure that I wouldn't rather put a little mild coercion on my conscience than dissent from the judgment of the "company." But here I own I cannot.

On the 21st of August next an event will occur which has been only twice recorded in the history of celestial phenomena: Jupiter will appear without satellites. Three of them will then be passing across the planet's disc and the other will be immersed in its shadow. The apparent absence of moons will not last more than two hours.

STATE ITEMS.

Messrs. Upton & Noltner will commence the publication of a new Democratic paper at Salem in about a fort night, to be called the Capital City Chronicle.

On last Saturday, the 10th instant a Frenchman living on Olive Creek, Grant county, who furnished the miners with milk, was murdered. He was first shot and then his brains beaten out with the barrel of a rifle. A man by the name of Jim Hill, a miner, has been arrested on suspicion of having committed the deed.

Maj Berry, says the Record, has private advices from Gov. Woods in which he speaks of his tour as a pleasant one, but the weather has been excessively warm. Speaking of the election prospects he expresses the opinion that Gorham will be elected by from ten to fifteen thousand majority. These things are taking in California at present justifies that opinion, as Riddell has given his support to the regular Union nominations.

The Mountaineer says: A company of cavalry recruits arrived here from Fort Vancouver on Saturday last on route for Camp Watson and other posts in the Indian country, under command of Lieut Duncan Sherman. These recruits will be distributed among a number of companies of the 8th Cavalry. They were splendidly mounted and had the appearance of being a good class of men.

Rev. O. Dickinson, proprietor of the extensive seed gardens northwest of Salem, a short distance, has just returned, says the Record, from a long tour in Oregon and California, to settle accounts with the various persons who have been disposing of his garden seeds. His enterprise is a new one, and we are pleased to learn that he considers the success attained sufficient inducement to prosecute the business more thoroughly. His sale of seeds amount, this year, to nearly $2,000, and those who have done business with him in California say they can sell three times the amount another year, judging probably from the success of those who have purchased and planted them the present season.

The following is an extract from a letter from Grand Ronde Valley, Union county, dated August 10th: "Our fine valley is at this time in the midst of harvest. We have had a very cold, dry, backward Spring and Summer. There will not be raised, this season, in this valley, as heavy a crop of grain as was last, although a good crop will be realized. Several days ago the low lands of this valley were visited with a severe 'freeze,' almost entirely destroying the gardens. Some are wholly ruined. Times, I am sorry to say, are very dull here. Wheat, flour and grain of all kinds, seem a drug in the market. Cattle seem to be the only article of traffic here at this time that is any thing like ready sale. We want some of your valley sheep raisers to send us several thousand head of good sheep. I will venture to say that there are not two hundred sheep in this valley. It is the best opening for the sheep enterprise on the coast. Who will engage in the enterprise? We have five as good flouring mills here as are to be found in your valley. Wheat is selling at $1 00, flour $7 00 per barrel. So you see we have to financier very closely to "keep soul and body together." We are very "closely shaved" by the merchants, which you will readily perceive by the following prices. We pay for sugar from 5c to 40c, coffee, 40c, dried apples, 30c; peaches, 40c; salt, 10@12½c; cotton goods, from 25c to 60c; Salem goods, $1 75@2 25. So you see the merchants "have us," provided we don't send to Portland for our goods."

LETTER FROM SAN FRANCISCO.

San Francisco, August 12, 1867.

The political contest in this State is increasing in heat, and with assurance of a Union triumph. Governor Woods of your State, is understood to be doing good service to the cause. A week since the State Central Committee telegraphed for the services of Hon. J. H. Mitchell, of your State, and it is hoped that he will address the people of this city upon the issues, during the latter part of this month. It seems by the papers that Hon. George H. Williams, U. S. Senator, has been mentioned for the Presidency. Well, it is true that Judge Williams has claims to respect. But we think that the nomination of Secretary Stanton with Speaker Colfax, is a fixed fact. No Union man can hesitate in giving an earnest support to either of those distinguished statesmen, and such a ticket can beat any copperhead arrangement which can be brought out.

It is probable the Democracy will run Horatio Seymour for President, with W. A. Richardson of Illinois, for Vice. Governor Seymour is a man of cultivated intellect and able to rally to his support the interior sections of his party, but "many changes have occurred since King Henry died."

Business in this city is dull, and all kinds of fancy stocks depressed. The New Exchange Reading Rooms are well filled each day, and the faces of a number of New Yorkers are seen there daily. The case of Heslep against Pratt was argued and submitted upon demurrer in the 4th District Court, a few days since, by plaintiff in proper person, and H. B. Wallace and Gen. Patterson for the defendant. The action was commenced by the plaintiff, A. M. Heslep, against O. C. Pratt, Judge, for illegally making an order reducing the plaintiff's judgment against one Webber of $30,000 to $16,000, or in the event of the plaintiffs not stipulating to do so within twenty days granting a new trial for defendant. It was a peculiar order; still people will be slow in believing Judge Pratt would make an illegal order, as he is regarded here as quite an intelligent Judge, and very fair minded. His decisions are generally against a Judge's personal liability; still it is thought that the demurrer in the action will not be sustained.

The course of the Sacramento Union in openly denouncing George C. Gorham, the Union candidate for Governor, is being censured here. All of the indications are that Gorham will be elected by about 10,000 majority. Alas! poor Haight! Three Union members of Congress will be elected.

The Austrian Press on the News of the Execution of July First.—The majority of the Vienna papers devote special articles to the memory of the late Emperor. The Neue Freudenblatt remarks:

> The bold exploit of an intelligent prince has turned into a grander tragedy than ever entered a poet's imagination.

The Horgenpost says:

> He was one of the best of men. He possessed a noble mind and a spirit eager for action. He felt in his breast that impulse which is the origin of everything great, that uneasiness without which no one ventures to change or improve those things that surround him. He possessed that breadth and magnanimity of intention which gave him confidence in himself; a certain boldness that lent him the determination either to conquer his place in history or to die. He has now done both.

The Neue Freie Presse speaks thus:

> The unfortunate Emperor was a prince endowed with the noblest acquirements. The tragic occurrence will make an overwhelming impression not only in Austria, where he was born, but will create a sensation in all parts of Europe, and even far beyond the limits of the Old World.

The Presse writes:

> The sad news will be felt all the more deeply, as the popularity of the prince, in consequence of his self sacrificing devotion to the idea that led him to Mexico had increased daily. The execution of the Emperor will be an everlasting disgrace to the Mexican Republicans. A noble enemy taken prisoner, a man anxious for the welfare of the country, did not merit this treatment. The disorganized and Republican institutions of the country, against which Maximilian strove, can certainly make no pretentious claims to legitimacy. The murder of the Emperor, who would unquestionably have offered all possible guarantees for the abandonment of all his claims, is nothing but a low and mean act of revenge on the part of the abject Mexican half bloods.

The Debatte declares that Maximilian has fought, suffered and fallen like a hero.

The Washburne Family.—The Minneapolis (Minnesota) Tribune has some gossip about a family which of late years has had no little prominence. We give a part of its article:

> The "Washburne family," so called, is the family of Israel Washburne, Sr., one of the early settlers of the town where he has long resided—though a native, we believe, of Massachusetts—and who, as a merchant and farmer, has ever maintained an enviable reputation in that portion of the country. His sons—all now living—are Israel Washburne, Jr., who is about fifty-three years of age, has represented one of the Maine districts in Congress for twelve years, been Governor of the State two years, and is now Collector of the port of Portland. Algernon Sidney, who has been a successful Boston merchant, but is now a bank officer in Hallowell, Maine; Elihu B., who for many years has represented the Galena district Illinois, in Congress, and who is the oldest member (officially) in the House; Cadwalader, C., of La Crosse, Wisconsin, who was a Major General in the late war and is now a member of Congress; Charles A., who is at present the United States Minister to Paraguay; Samuel A., who had command of a gunboat during a portion of the late war, and now resides and does business at Owatonna, in this State; and William D., late United States Surveyor General for this State, and now one of the most enterprising and successful lumber manufacturers and merchants of this city. There were also three daughters in this family, one of whom is dead. Three of the brothers, Israel, Elihu and Cadwalader, have all been members of the lower house of Congress at the same time, representing as many different States, and the two latter are members of the present House.

A young man called at the City Clerk's office a day or two since and asked for a "death warrant." The astounded Clerk assured him that he dealt in no such documents. "Well," said the fellow, "give us a marriage license, it amounts to the same thing." We hope that youth will catch a tartar. So says the New Bedford Mercury.

The trial of skill of A. W. Jamason, of this city, champion player of California, and Edward Morris, of Salt Lake City, came off last night in Platt's Hall. About 500 persons were present. The table used is one of ten tables intended for the Cosmopolitan Hotel, and was manufactured by Strubt & Hughes. It is carome table, quarter size. It is a new pattern and is provided, with Phelan's improvement. The stakes were $500 aside, the winning party to have the purse and champion cue. Before the game opened, Mr. M. R. Hughes counted out on the table $1,000. At 8 o'clock the principals took their places at the table. The game opened auspiciously for Morris, who made 236 points on the second run. Jamison quickly re-assured his backers by coming up to one effort to near this figure. Applause was bestowed impartially as occasion arose, on both players, and it seemed as Morris stood highest in the opinion of the spectators, though a bet of $100 was offered on Jamison before the game opened. As it progressed, the latter developed his skill and kept ahead of his competitor. After the first 500 points, the game looked uncertain and the opinion was about equally divided. Jamison won the match. His highest runs in the second portions of the game were 163, 118 and 212. His average was 50½, which is higher than any player has reached in the Atlantic States, not excepting Kavanaugh or McDevitt. The wager was paid over to the winning party. The game lasted two hours and a half.

An Iowa Town Moved into Nebraska.—We learn from a passenger on the J. H. Lacey on her down trip, says the St. Joseph Union, that the river has washed away the neck of land, which was about three hundred yards wide, above Sidney or Hamburg, Iowa, leaving that town on the Nebraska side of the river, and adding some thousand acres of land to that State. The Lacey arrived at that point at seven in the evening, and her only channel lay through that cutoff, through which the water was rushing somewhat similar to the falls at Louisville. All the steam she could raise was let on, and at a speed of about thirty miles an hour she successfully plowed through the awful current, among floating trees and debris, being the first boat that made the passage. Had she not been a staunch steamer and well directed, she could not have made the trip.

Sore Throat, Cough, Cold, and similar troubles, if suffered to progress, result in serious pulmonary affections, oftentimes incurable. "Brown's Bronchial Troches" reach directly the seat of the disease, and give almost instant relief. They have been thoroughly tested, and maintain the good reputation they have justly acquired. As there are imitations, be sure to obtain the genuine.

NEWS FOR THE LADIES.—Dry Goods, Fancy as well as Staple, Fine as well as Common, will shortly arrive and be for sale at extremely low figures at the Store of KORN & FRIEDEL, No 91 Front street, who will receive, in addition to their already extensive stock, a new invoice of Dry Goods, which they will offer at prices to induce Ladies to purchase of them.

Buchtel's Photograph Gallery is the only establishment in Oregon that is thoroughly prepared to do all the different styles of work in the art Photographs from card to life size. The new cabinet cards, &c., &c. Small pictures enlarged (retouched in India ink—painted in water-colors or oil by Mrs S J Ramsey. Pictures that are fading can be reproduced in this way. All negatives taken in this gallery will be carefully preserved, and additional copies had. I have now on hand a very large collection of negatives, the names of which are recorded alphabetically in a book for that purpose that can be seen in the reception room.

"CAPITAL CITY CHRONICLE."

J. H. UPTON & A. NOLTNER, Proprietors.

ON SATURDAY, AUGUST 31, 1867, A LARGE SIZE WEEKLY PAPER, with the above title, will be issued at SALEM, OREGON.

The CHRONICLE will be devoted to Politics, News, and the development of the varied resources of the State. In politics the CHRONICLE will be unflinchingly Democratic, supporting and advocating all those reforms in National and State polity, so urgently demanded at the present time by every consideration involving the weal of the American people. The necessity for a Democratic organ firmly planted at the Capital, will be at once apparent to every thinking Democrat in the State. Such a one we propose to make the CAPITAL CITY CHRONICLE, and with the State thoroughly Democratic to-day, with all prospective changes in favor of that party, there is no valid reason why the enterprise shall not prove a complete success.

While the CHRONICLE will devote ample space to the discussion of political topics, the News of the day, the Agricultural Mining, Mechanical and Manufacturing interests of the State at large will receive due attention. A twenty-eight column paper, 26x38 inches in size, will furnish ample space and enable us to present in each number an amount of reading matter equal to the importance of the interests involved. We only ask at the hands of the people that legitimate patronage which shall enable us to present a sheet in every way creditable to ourselves and the State—one which none may have the least reason to be ashamed of.

All contracts for advertising and subscription existing with the late Democratic Review will be faithfully executed by the proprietor of the CHRONICLE.

Terms of Subscription:

Single copy, one year..... $3 00

Five copies, one year..... 13 75

Ten copies, one year..... 25 00

And for any greater number, one year, at the rate of $2 50 each.

EASTERN OREGON MINES.—Mr Castonwine, a well known old citizen of Clackamas county, called on us on Saturday, having just come down from the mining region of Eastern Oregon. He says there is every prospect that the mines of Burnt river and Willow Creek will yet prove very rich camps They occupy a district of country not less than sixty miles in average breadth either way, including Rye valley, Shasta Creek, New Diggings, Mormon Basin, Clark's creek and other camps The placers are all on the waters of Burnt river and Willow creek and their tributaries. Several very rich discoveries have been made this summer There is, however, a scarcity of water, and will be, till the ditches now in progress shall be completed. The ditch of Carter & Packwood, which is expected to be completed this season as far as Shasta valley, will furnish water for that camp, and it is confidently believed, it will enable the miners to wash out an amount of dust that will surprise most people The dirt, of which an immense amount has already been thrown out, is known to be very rich. The extent of these mines is being constantly widened by new discoveries, but the lack of water prevents their development The only way in which they have been worked heretofore, has been to throw out the dirt during the summer and fall and then wait till the next spring for water to wash it out. Several ditches are being dug, which, when completed, will enable the miners to sluice their dust as fast as thrown out, and thus double their profits by saving of time. In addition to the want of water, the miners in this district have always been troubled by hostile Indians. Had they been protected, the mines would have been long since developed and Eastern Oregon would have assumed its proper important rank among the northern mining districts.

VANCOUVER ITEMS.—We clip the subjoined items from the Register of Saturday: A child of L Holmes, Esq., was run over by a team last Thursday, on Main street The child broke his arm, but sustained no other serious injuries.....Mr. A. J. Conklin will soon commence operations in his soap factory at Vancouver.... The Masonic lodge of this town has lately purchased a first class organ for use in the Lodge. It is claimed to be one of the best of the kind and was purchased for $300 at Parish & Co's, Portland.....The race on last Wednesday between Shaw's mare and Scroggin's horse was won by the latter by 18 feet in a single mile dash. Time, 1 minute 54½ seconds .....Holy Angels' College and also the Vancouver Seminary were opened again last week, after a vacation of over one month. Both of these excellent institutions are recommenced operations with very favorable prospects of success.....Everybody in town is excited about something; base ball, horse races and every other kind of sport. Recently in San Francisco a prize was offered to the person who could throw a ball the farthest The man who gained the prize threw the ball 234 feet, which was considered excellent. A wager was made here the other day that Mr. Dolce Short, of the Occidental Base Ball Club, could beat that throw. Upon trial it was found that he threw the ball 296 feet, and therefore the boys claim him as the champion.

A MAMMOTH STEER.—Mr. T. B. Newman arrived in this city on Saturday with the mammoth steer, raised by by Mr. Thos. Cress, of Salem, and well known as the "Oregon Baby." This steer has taken several premiums at the State Fairs of Oregon, for size, fatness and general good condition. His present weight is considerably over three thousand pounds, and yet he is well proportioned, and sprightly. At the State Fairs, where we have several times seen him, he always had large crowds about him, uttering expressions of surprise that a civilized steer could grow to be such a behemoth. Mr. Newman will keep the "Baby" on exhibition here till the sailing of the Orilliamme, whom he will take him to California for the purpose of exhibiting him at the State Fair at Sacramento. He may be seen at the stable of N. Gray, near the turpentine works.

SPIRITUAL LECTURE.—We listened to the latter part of the lecture by Mrs. Stowe, last evening at Ore Fino Hall. The lecturess, who seemed to be in a semi-trance state, spoke deliberately yet fluently, rarely making a gesture with her hands or getting her voice out of the ordinary lecture tone. She is an intellectual looking woman, with a fine eye and a general cut of features which plainly indicates decision yet affability of character. At the close of her lecture, she made a slight, quick start, opened her eyes as if from sleep and immediately went on, in her normal state, with a poetic recitation; after which she invited any of all who might wish to ask a question to manifest any things she had said, to avail themselves freely of the opportunity, before the audience should leave. She announced that she would lecture again next Sunday evening.

FOR MT. HOOD.—Col. Williamson with a party of ten gentlemen and guests, and a Government escort will start this morning for Mt. Hood, for the purpose of ascertaining its exact height, and of prosecuting certain other scientific researches. We are informed that the expedition is to be made under orders from the War Department, and that a full report will be made. Several residents of this city are of the party, from whom we may get all the material facts ascertained, upon their return. The party will be equipped in the the completest manner, so that nothing will be in the way of a successful expedition. Col. Williamson's report will definitely settle the long mooted question of the height of the mountain.

MILITARY ITEMS.—We learn from the Vancouver Register that the detachment of the 2d U. S. Infantry which arrived by the last steamer, under command of Lieut. Dodge, will leave soon for Boise City, in the vicinity of which a new military camp is to be established. ....The Register says: Dr. Chase, late Surgeon of the U. S. Army, has returned to Vancouver and will permanently settle here in October next. The Doctor is well and favorably known here, and we are glad to learn that he intends to locate here.....The Roseburg Ensign says Captain Kelly's command arrived at that place on the 17th, en route to Ft. Klamath. Six men had deserted since the command left Ft Vancouver.

EUPHUISM.—The following bit of extravagant eloquence was picked up in church, yesterday, pencilled on a scrap of paper. It is impossible to tell whether the author "still lives:"

"If I had the world for a pulpit, and the stars for an audience, with my head towering far above the loftiest clouds, and my arms swinging through immensity, with the clarion notes of Gabriel's voice, I'd place one foot on Greenland's icy mountain, and the other on India's Coral Strand, and—and I'd—I'd howl like a Coyote."

KICKED BY A HORSE.—Last week a young man named Jackson Boiois, who was at work for Mr. David Powell, while engaged in harnessing a young and vicious horse, was kicked in the stomach by the animal and so badly injured that he died in about twenty-four hours. He was an estimable young man and was Worthy Chief Templar in the lodge of that neighborhood. He was buried with the honors of the order of Good Templars.

MUSICAL.—Mr. Shanahan of this city, who has one of the prettiest music and picture galleries on this coast, is about to go into the interior on a short trip, for the purpose of putting things in a little better tune. We hope he may be able to strike the key note, especially in Salem, where the late failure to attend the opera indicates that repairs to musical taste are needed.

A PLUNGE BATH.—At the landing of the steamer Ranger, Saturday evening, a boy fell overboard from the wharf and came near being drowned He was rescued by one of the attaches of the Exchange Hotel It is remarkable that some of the boys who crowd on the verge of the wharves on such occasions, do not get drowned.

STREET IMPROVEMENT.—Bids will be received by the Street Commissioner till the 24th inst, for the improvement of Second street, between A and Madison, according to the provisions of an ordinance lately passed by the City Council. The work will be let in one or several contracts.

IN MEMORIAM.—Rev. M. Stacy preached at Trinity Church, yesterday, a sermon on the life, character and services of the late Rt. Rev. Bishop Scott. Aside from the interest that would naturally attach to the subject, the discourse was both interesting and instructive

BOY'S SCHOOLS.—It will be seen by an advertisement that St Joseph's Academy will be opened for boys on Thursday, the 22d inst. For information concerning the school apply at the academy, corner of Oak and Third streets, or to the Rev. Father Fierens

LOCKED UP FOR BEING DISORDERLY.—A couple of young men were arrested at a late hour Saturday night, for indulging in a scrimmage and arguments of a disorderly character. They will be brought before the Recorder this morning

RIVER IMPROVEMENT.—It is expected that the work of improving Swan Island bar, will be commenced as soon as practicable after the return of Col Williamson from Mt. Hood. The dredger and scows will then be in readiness.

BASE BALL.—The match game between the Young Pioneers of this city and the Tumwaters of Oregon City, was played on Saturday, at the latter place, resulting in a victory for the Tumwaters by eleven runs.

RACE.—On Saturday a race was run on the track below the city, between Hamilton's mare "Sallie" and Miller's dun mare, for $20 a mile, three hundred yards, won by the latter by fourteen feet

WILLAMETTE FREIGHTS.—Arrival per steamer Senator on Friday and Saturday 761 qr sks flour, 452 sks feed, 6 bales woolen goods, 32 boxes fruit and 30 bundles paper.

RECORDER'S COURT.—In the Recorder's Court Saturday, Alexander John's was fined $5, and costs for being found drunk and asleep on the sidewalk

"The Big Muddy."

The Missouri river, or, as it is known more familiarly by the inhabitants along its banks, "The Big Muddy," displayed a characteristic but not orthodox startling feat about a month ago. In the neighborhood of Hamburg, Fremont county, Iowa, the river, being at high flood, commenced cutting its way through a neck of land about a quarter of a mile wide in Peru Bottom In a few hours the main channel was changed across this out, and the current swept through it with a rapidity which was appalling The Hamburg Times thus describes the first tangible effects of the diversion:

On the morning after the river made the cut the steamers Cornelia and Miner came around in the old channel, and after having made the entire circuit of the bend, arriving at the upper end of the cut were drawn into the current, which at that time was running very swift, and carried through in spite of themselves, thus losing twenty miles travel in a few minutes, they were compelled to make the circuit over again. The Deer Lodge, on her way from the mountains, not being advised of this fact, was taken down sideways, injuring her self considerably. At present writing boats are making trips up and down through the new channel with all ease. This shortening has necessarily made a greater fall to the river, and the low lands below town were completely drained on last Sunday, notwithstanding the Missouri was on the rales. This will be of benefit to that part of the country. We understand that a small steamboat is to be immediately put in operation between this place and Peru, on the Nishnabotana river, which stream has been pronounced navigable by old settlers for large boats up as far as this place.

The Nebraska City Press of the 15th describes the event as follows:

We learn from a gentleman just from Peru that the river has cut through the narrows near the farm of Mr. Denman in Peru Bottom, and the whole current is now running through. The neck of land was about a quarter of a mile wide and early in the week, the water began to run over it and cut it out so rapidly that on Friday morning the whole current ran through so swiftly that it caught the steamer Cornelia which had come around the bend, at the upper end and sucked her through the channel back to Peru. As the Lacey went down on Friday evening she was caught also and carried through. The Colorado is coming up came through. The channel is now about half a mile wide and shortens the river about sixteen miles, leaving Sidney Landing about six miles east of the river. The new channel cut through a farm of eighty acres in which corn was growing, and has washed the whole of it away.

A GOOD REASON.—An honest Dutchman, in training up his son in the way he should go, frequently exercised him in Bible lessons. On one occasion he asked him:

"Who vas dat who wouldn't sleep mit Butiver's wife?"

"Joseph;"

"Dat is a goot poy. Vell, vat vas de reason he wouldn't sbleep mit her?"

"Don't know; spose he vasn't sbleepy."

PERFECTLY ENRAPTURING.—Such were our feelings as we stepped into the Music and Art Gallery of W. T. BRANAHAN, on First street, a few days since, and listened to the delightful tones and harmony which came from one of Mason & Hamlin's Cabinet Organs. From the soft breathing finte tones to the thundering bass of the pipe organ, all was equally free and sweet. And why is it other makers cannot produce instruments like these? Mason & Hamlin were the first to introduce the Cabinet Organ, and have gained such world-wide notoriety that it requires the work of two large factories to supply the demand for these valuable instruments.

The Southern Military Commanders and their Supporters.

RESPONSE OF SECRETARY STANTON TO THE HOUSE RESOLUTION OF THE 5D INSTANT.

WASHINGTON, July 12, 1867

The Secretary of War to-day sent to the House of Representatives, in response to the resolution of the 3d inst., copies of all orders, dispatches and communications, which have been forwarded to or received from the several commanders of the military districts. The papers are quite voluminous, but most of them being from General Sheridan, who seems to have had much more correspondence with his superior than any other commander. Most of the important points have heretofore been made public, but the following we presume will be found interesting:

From the First District, Gen. Schofield, on the 22d of March, first asked for an official interpretation of the phrase "executive and judicial officer," as contained in the constitutional amendment. The next communication of importance is his order regarding registration, on which he asks General Grant's opinion. General Grant replies that he approves the order, but thinks that the Board had better not be confined too strictly by rules, so that they may not be able in a case of doubt to exercise their own discretion. General Schofield also incloses a list of civil appointments made in Virginia, which he says have also been approved by the Governor.

In the Second District there is nothing of importance except General Sickles' request to be relieved, which has been printed, and the President's refusal to grant the request. A copy of General Sickles' recent letter on registration is also published, and accompanies the papers.

From the Third District there is more of interest. The papers submitted throw some further light upon the difficulty between General Pope and Governor Jenkins, which nearly caused the latter's removal. It seems that after Governor Jenkins addressed the people of Georgia, in which he advised non-action under the Military Bill, and during his absence in Washington, where he was urging injunction applications, Gen. Pope went so far as to write an order deposing him from office without naming his successor, which he forwarded to Gen. Grant for his approval. Before receiving any reply, however, Governor Jenkins returned and made such explanations and pledges to Gen Pope that he withdrew the contemplated order. General Grant had forwarded the order to the Secretary of War, with the following indorsement: "Respectfully forwarded to the Secretary of War for his information. The telegraphic dispatch herein inclosed shows that Gov Jenkins, of Georgia, has given such pledges to the commander of this district as to induce him to withhold for the present the suspension of the Governor. The conduct of Governor Jenkins does not excuse, however, how possible it is for civil officers of the unreconstructed States to defeat the laws of Congress if power does not rest with district commanders to suspend their functions in some way. It seems clear to me that power is given in the bill for the more efficient government of the rebel States to us, and not at the pleasure of the commander of the provisional machinery set up without the authority of Congress, in the state to which the reconstruction Act applies. There being doubts, however, on this point, I respectfully ask an opinion on the subject. If the power of removal does not exist with district commanders, then it will become necessary to take refuge under that section of the bill which authorizes military commissions."

June 30th—Referring to the Mobile riot, Gen. Pope says in paragraphs to General Grant that he feels satisfied that a change of authorities in Mobile is essential to the peace of the city in future and the best interests of the people. I trust these changes will not be interfered with. The very fact of the issuance of the President in affairs in so unsettled a place as Mobile in the reinstatement of those deposed officials would create such alarm and excitement that I should feel bound at once to declare martial law in that city and entirely set aside the civil authority.

June 7th—General Pope, acknowledging the receipt of Attorney General Stanbery's opinion, telegraphs to General Grant that it does not seem to be in the form of an order, but as there may be room for it he wants to be informed by telegraph whether or no he is ordered by the President to communicate his notice to the Attorney General's opinion. General Grant, in his reply, sent him a copy of the dispatch to General Sheridan in response to the same inquiry, which will be found in the correspondence from that district.

From the Fourth District General Ord's correspondence is quite as limited as from the First. The only thing of importance is a letter to General Grant asking him for an interpretation of the Military Act, which received the following reply:

HEADQ'RS: A copy of your final instructions to the Board of Registration of June 10, 1867, is just received. I entirely dissent from the views contained in paragraph 4th—your views as to the Act of registrars to register every man who will take the required oath, though they know the applicant perjures himself, and is sustained by the views of the Attorney General. My opinion is, it is the duty of the Board of Registration to see, as far as it lays in their power, that no unauthorized person is allowed to register.

To secure this, registers should be allowed to administer oaths and examine witnesses. The law, however, makes district commanders the judges of their own power and duty under it, and in my opinion the Attorney General or myself can see more than a few opinion as to the meaning of the law. Neither can I enforce his views against the judgment of those made responsible for the faithful execution of the law, by the district commands.

Very respectfully, your ob't serv't,
U. S. GRANT, General.

The Fifth District correspondence is very voluminous and full of interest, as will appear from the following summary:

April 1st—Sheridan, writing to Grant, asks for an authoritative decision showing who are prevented by the Military bill from voting. This letter is forwarded to the Secretary of War, who lays it before the Cabinet on the following day, and writes to Sheridan that instructions will be deferred till the Attorney General completes his opinion upon the same point heretofore to-wit: [March 23d,] presented by General Schofield, and now under consideration.

April 2d—Sherman to Grant—Incloses letter from General Griffin, in command in Texas, who says: "I cannot find a single officer holding position under the State laws whose antecedents will justify me in reposing trust in him in assisting in registration. I have frequently called the Governor's attention to murders and outrages upon loyal men, but so far no notice has been taken of my suggestions, and none of the fiends have been brought to justice. He and the Lieutenant Governor are both disqualified under the Military Act, and I desire the immediate removal of the Governor." This letter is indorsed by General Sheridan, who says he feels like General Griffin, and thinks Throckmorton ought to be removed. He adds: I fear I shall be obliged to remove Governor Wells, of this State, who is impeding me as much as he can.

April 3d—General Grant advises no removal, at present, of Governors of States, because the question of power of Military Commanders is now under consideration in the Cabinet.

April 6th—Sheridan to Grant: Says, will soon begin registration in New Orleans, and is anxious for decision as to who are disfranchised under the Reconstruction Act.

April 7th—Grant to Sheridan: Your question has been submitted to the Attorney General. No decision yet received. Go on giving your own interpretation of the law until an answer is given.

April 12th—Sheridan asks for a copy of the list of registered enemies made in New Orleans by Banks and Butler, and on the 25th the Secretary of War orders that the books containing the record be sent to Sheridan by express immediately, and they were forwarded that day.

April 10th—Sheridan to Grant: Sends memorandum showing what classes the Board of Registration for New Orleans parish had on the preceding day, after full consultation, unanimously agreed upon as disqualified for registration. He also sent the last question it was decided to ask all persons who applied for registration.

April 10th—Sheridan to Grant. Gives his reasons at length—already published—for removing Abel, Herron and Monroe, says the registration is going on well; there is some dissatisfaction among the scoundrels, because we don't interpret the law to suit them.

May 7th—Stanton to Grant. Refers to Sheridan's order closing registration at New Orleans on the 10th of May, and says that the President is of the opinion that the time is too short for a full and fair registry, and that so much of the order as alludes to that date should be rescinded. This order Grant sent to Sheridan next day.

May 11—Sheridan to Grant. States he has to contend with all kinds of attempted frauds at New Orleans; had that day dismissed a clerk in the Fifth District Court for issuing false certificates of naturalization; thought the same thing had been done in all the Courts, but believed he would be able to head them off.

May 13th—Sheridan to Grant. Said he had already extended the time of registration in the city to May 31st, before receiving the President's instructions of the 9th.

May 20th—Stanton to Sheridan: The President directs you to make such further extension of the time as will secure a fair and full registration.

May 29th—Sheridan to Stanton: Would make such further extension as is necessary.

June 3d—Stanton to Sheridan: Directing, by order of the President, that no further proceeding is to be taken relative to the Levee Commissioners.

June 4th—Sheridan to Grant: I found it necessary yesterday to remove Governor Wells. He has embarrassed me very much, since I came in command, by his subterfuge and political chicanery. This necessary act will be approved by every class and shadow of political opinion here. He has not a friend who is an honest man.

June 6th—Sheridan to Grant, announcing that Durant declines, and he has appointed Flanders, and adding, I think you will not have any anxiety about the condition of affairs here. The backbone of the squabble has been broken by the removal of Gov Wells.

June 7th—Grant to Sheridan: I see a Washington dispatch in the papers announcing that the Secretary of War and myself favored reprimanding you for your action in removing the Governor of Louisiana. There is not one word of truth in the story. I was not even in the city at the time.

June 8th—Sheridan to Grant: Gov Flanders assumed the duties of his office this morning. He is a man of integrity and ability, and I now feel as though I was relieved of half my labors. As it has been heretofore, there was no security, and I feel, as the people of the whole state feel, that we have got rid of an unprincipled Governor and a set of disreputable tricksters whom he had about him. Nothing will answer here but a bold and strong course, and in taking it I am supported by every class and party.

June 21st—Sheridan to Grant: Says he has extended the time of registration throughout the State to the 15th of July; considers it now nearly closed, but deemed it best to give fifteen days grace.

June 21st—Adjutant General Townsend to Sheridan: Your telegram to General Grant, proposing to close the registration in New Orleans on the 30th of this month, and at some other places in Louisiana on the 10th of July, has been submitted to the President, who is of the opinion that the proposed limitation of time will be too short for a full and fair registration, and that the electors in your district should be allowed until the 1st of August to register, especially as it is not probable that the registration in other districts will be completed before that time; he therefore directs that the registry be not closed before the 1st of August, unless there be some good reason to the contrary, which you will report for the President's information and judgment.

June 22d—Sheridan to Grant: This letter has already been published. It gave his reasons for closing the registry and spoke of the Attorney General's opinion as opening a broad, unexclamined road to perjury, and declined to extend the time unless ordered by the President.

June 27th—Result of Stanberry's opinion be gleaning to show itself by defiant opposition to all acts of the military commander and by impeding and rendering helpless civil officers acting under his appointment. For instance, the Mayor of this city notifies the Common Council that one and a quarter millions of illegal money have been issued by the Comptroller and Treasurer. The Common Council refuse to order an investigation and the City Attorney refuses to sue out an injunction to stop the issue. I fear the chaos which this opinion will make, if carried out, is but little understood. Every civil officer in the State will administer justice according to his own views. Many of them, denouncing the Military Bill as unconstitutional, will throw every impediment in the way of its execution, and bad will go to worse unless this embarrassing condition of affairs is settled by permitting me to go on in my first course, which was indorsed by all the people except those disfranchised, most of whom are office holders, or do.ire to be such.

June 23d—Sheridan to Grant: He says he has received a circular from the Adjutant General's office, embodying the Attorney General's opinion on disfranchisement. He is at a loss to know whether this is or not an order. The form and phraseology are not those of an order, and he asks if he is to regard it as such.

June 28th—Grant to Sheridan: Enforce your own construction of the bill until ordered to do otherwise. The opinion of the Attorney General has not been distributed to district commanders in a language or manner entitling it to the force of an order, nor can I suppose that the President intended such force.

June 26th—General Sheridan to the Attorney General: I answered that registration in this State will be continued in obedience to the orders of the President, unless I receive further direction from him to the contrary.

June 29th—Gen. Grant to Gen. Sheridan: I think it advisable for you to extend the time of registration in Louisiana till the 10th of July. The President will have returned before that date and he will then decide as to further extension.

July 2d—Sheridan to Grant: Did not get your telegram of the 20th till to-day. It was mislaid in the Washington office. I had already ordered an extension throughout the State, except in the parish of New Orleans, till the 15th of July, and after the receipt of yours of the 29th, extension was made indefinite. The Registry Board in this city now have nothing to do, and those in most of the parishes are in the same condition.

RHEUMATISM CURED!

PORTLAND, August 10th, 1867.

I HAVE SUFFERED A LONG TIME WITH RHEUmatic Pains and until now have found nothing to relieve me. To-day Mr J G Rennick called at my store and assured me that he could cure me in a few minutes. I thought he was mistaken, and laughed at him, but I said to my surprise that a few moments after the application of the SITKA LINIMENT, I was relieved of my pains, and I am now improving very fast. I now believe it will cure me in a few days. For further information call at my store, No. 182 First street.
F WEGNER.

SPRAINED WRIST CURED.

PORTLAND, August 10, 1867

I was at Mr Wegner's store on Saturday August 10th, and seeing the magical effect of J G RENNICK'S SITKA LINIMENT, in his case, concluded to try it on my wrist which has been sprained for a long time. I found relief inside of FIVE MINUTES from the application, and it is now perfectly well. My wrist was so swelled I could not shut my fingers. I believe it will cure any pain in a short time. I will give any further particulars to whoever calls on me.

Tumor Removed!

PORTLAND, August 10th, 1867

I HAVE USED RENNICK'S SITKA LINIMENT for pain and swelling of the gum and cheek. I had a large tumor forming on the gum which arose from killing the nerve in my tooth and caused me a dreadful pain which prevented me from sleep for several nights. I applied the Liniment, and to my surprise, it removed the lump and cured the pain so that it is now as well as the other cheek. My cheek was fearfully swollen. This was done in the presence of two witnesses.

I was present and know the above to be true, and am willing to swear to it.

PORTLAND, August 12th, 1867

For five years I have suffered with a pain or weakness in my back, which at times was dreadful. I often thought I would not bear such torment. But I got a bottle of RENNICK'S SITKA LINIMENT, and with one rub it perfectly cured me. I can recommend it to any lady suffering from pains in any way, for I am convinced it will at once remove them.

AMERICAN DOUBLE TURBINE

THESE WHEELS, unequaled and unrivaled in the United States or the world, have been fully tested on this coast, more than forty being in use at this date, driving all kinds of machinery, Saw Mills, Flour Mills, Quartz Mills, Woolen Factories, &c., &c.

On account of the late calamity to the OREGON IRON WORKS we have lost a few Wheels, but of these sizes we have a good supply, therefore those contemplating using this Wheel need not be disappointed, but forward their order at once, accompanied with the OASH, which we now need more than the Wheels.

We cheerfully refer to all using our wheels, and are assured that all will affirm that our wheels accomplish all and even more than we claim for them. Address
